

Privacy Statement

Supervision in ACT, and Toni Lindsay is committed to ensuring that your privacy, and your information is protected. Any information collected from participants will not be shared with any external parties.

The exception to this is those who have registered for a Supervision Masterclass. For these participants it is a Psychology Board requirement that proof of workshop attendance is shared with the Board in order to verify ongoing board approved supervisor status renewal.

All information collected, including those details relevant to attendance at workshops, as well as registration details are stored securely. No information outside of that which is provided by the attendees is stored.

Attendees of workshops can request access to their information through the administrator.
